The route follows the Corniche, with beautiful views, mosques by the sea and leisure areas. View of the King Fahd Fountain, whose water jets rise more than 300 meters high. Stop at the busy, picturesque fish market. Entrance to "Tabeyat International City" is included, an architectural complex of great beauty, with history and ethnography museums. Another visit to the historic center, entering through Bab Makkah, the most important gate of Jeddah. Visit to the elegant Beit Matbouli house, now a museum. Free time for lunch. In the afternoon, visit to the Al Rahma mosque, better known as the floating mosque, built on the shore of the Red Sea, with pillars over the water. DAY 4

JEDDAH-MEDINA

Breakfast. Departure for the interior of Arabia, along major highways crossing deserts and mountains to the holy city of Medina, "the luminous city". Arrival at midday, with a stop at a shopping center for lunch. Medina is a historic destination, one of the two holiest cities of Islam, where millions of pilgrims arrive each year, and it was closed to non-Muslims until recently. As it is a holy place, respect for the inhabitants and their beliefs and appropriate dress are required. Walk around the immense Prophet's Mosque (Al Masjid an Nabawi), a luminous mosque with 10 minarets and room for one million visitors, built by the Prophet himself and where he is buried. Visit to Uhud hill, where the Prophet's forces faced the troops of Mecca. You can walk across the large esplanade and climb the hill, but you must do so in silence and with respect for the hundreds of pilgrims present on any day. At the Quba Mosque, in the year 622, the Prophet and his followers laid the foundation stone of what would be the first mosque in history, although the current building is more recent. From there, walk to the Ethiq garden and well, where the local tribes came out to greet and give water to the Prophet and his companions, newly arrived in Medina after the persecution in Mecca. At nightfall, return to the exterior of the Al Masjid mosque to see the thousands of people entering at prayer time and the lighting. Dinner. Transfer to the hotel. Overnight.

Meals included: breakfast and dinner

6
