About the trip

Tango in Buenos Aires and wine in Mendoza, in a single journey through Argentina.

Buenos Aires is the birthplace of tango. It is home to Café Tortoni, the city's oldest bar, open since 1858, and to Teatro Colón. The planned hotel is the Alvear Palace Hotel.

A flight takes you to Mendoza, one of the largest wine-producing regions in the world. The itinerary suggests wineries in Maipú, such as Trapiche, Família Zuccardi and La Rural, and in Luján de Cuyo, such as Catena Zapata, Luigi Bosca, Chandon and Norton. In the city, the suggestion is a walk through Plaza Independencia, Parque General San Martín and Cerro de la Gloria, with views over the whole region. The planned hotel is the Park Hyatt Mendoza.

DAY BY DAY

Day 1: Brazil / Buenos Aires

Arrival at Ezeiza International Airport, meet and greet and transfer to the hotel. Check-in.

Days 1 to 3: Buenos Aires

The birthplace of tango is, like the dance itself, captivating, seductive and full of energy. The old neighborhoods are full of romantic restaurants and lively nightlife, and the European heritage of Buenos Aires shows in its architecture, avenues and parks. Café Tortoni, the city's oldest bar, takes you back to 1858. The spectacular Teatro Colón still impresses, just as it did in 1908. The shopping capital of Latin America offers excellent retail therapy along its wide avenues.

Day 3: Buenos Aires / Mendoza

At the appropriate time, departure for the flight to Mendoza. Meet and greet and transfer to the hotel. Accommodation.

Days 3 to 6: Mendoza

Since the region is one of the largest wine producers in the world, the best way to start exploring Mendoza is with what it does best: visiting some wineries.

For this first day, I recommend choosing three wineries in the two producing regions closest to the city (Maipú or Luján de Cuyo). Have a hearty breakfast at the hotel and save lunch for the restaurant at the third and last winery of the day. That way you can eat calmly, without rushing off to another bodega after lunch.

Since each region has dozens of wineries, I leave it open which ones you choose to visit and in what order.

Maipu has some of the oldest and most traditional wineries in Mendoza, such as Trapiche, Família Zuccardi and La Rural. In Luján de Cuyo you will find very famous bodegas, such as Catena Zapata, Luigi Bosca, Chandon and Norton.

For the second day, we suggest the attractions in the city center, with a tour of Mendoza's main landmarks.

The tour can start with a good walk around downtown, exploring its tree-lined streets and large squares, including Plaza Independencia, in the heart of the city. Around the square you can visit museums, the municipal market and shopping streets such as Av. San Martín.

Then visit Parque General San Martín, one of the largest urban parks in Argentina, which covers a huge green area near the city center. Next to the park is Cerro de La Glória, a hill with a large monument at its highest point and a panoramic view over the whole region.

Day 5: Mendoza / Brazil (Connection in Buenos Aires)

In the morning, after check-out, we head to Mendoza airport for the flight to Brazil… end of our services.
