GDANSK

Breakfast. Free day, with an optional excursion to Malbork, including an unassisted transfer with driver from Gdansk. Visit to Malbork Castle of the Teutonic Order, the former invincible capital of the Teutonic Knights, now a museum. The order was the last to take part in the crusades, invited in 1226 by Duke Konrad of Masovia to Christianize the territories of Livonia, Pomerania and Masuria. The knights built a network of fortresses in northeastern Poland, and Malbork was the capital until the 16th century. The castle, which was never conquered, offers a full visit of the High and Middle Castle sections, plus the Amber Museum. Return to Gdansk. Overnight stay.
