-  MINIMUM 2 PEOPLE: PRICES FOR A SINGLE TRAVELER ON REQUEST ***
- For every client who takes a safari on this program, 1 USD per day will be donated to the foundation “The Kobo trust foundation”. In Kenya, bringing in and using any type of plastic bag is prohibited. Using plastic bags can result in heavy fines. Ivory is completely prohibited in the countries of East Africa, so avoid entering these countries with any amount of it, however small. The same applies to any product of African animal origin. On arrival, passengers receive a pin from the Kawangware Street Children Project association, which represents a contribution from clients to the development of local communities, luggage tags and a safari hat. At The Ark, only small overnight bags are allowed; the rest of the luggage stays at the base hotel (Aberdares Country Club) and is collected the next day. The stay at the Aberdare hotel is without a guide, because animals are watched from the lodge itself. On regular circuits in Spanish, if the departure has more than one vehicle, the guide changes cars along the way (in Kenya, 1 guide is included for every 2 vehicles). Only US dollars issued after 2006 are accepted in Kenya; earlier ones are not accepted. It is important that luggage be in soft bags (hard suitcases are a real problem for transport) and limited to 15 kg per person. Prices were calculated on the date the program was issued. If the exchange rate, fuel or other energy sources, or the level of taxes and fees on travel services increase, the price may be adjusted. Airport, city and intercity transfers are made by minibus or bus. A window seat is not guaranteed. Transfers on regular programs are in shared vehicles. Transfers in Kenyan cities are made in 7-seat minibuses, unless stated otherwise. Safaris are made in 4x4 vehicles (long chassis, 7 seats, or short chassis, 4 seats, Land Cruiser/Land Rover, depending on group size). The vehicles have a pop-up roof for better animal viewing and for taking photos during photo safaris. So that each traveler has a guaranteed window seat, there are at most 7 passengers in the safari vehicle. On safaris through the National Parks and Reserves, we run as many safaris as daylight allows, to make the most of the visit to the reserve. The safari for each overnight stop or park is listed in each itinerary. On days when clients have a full day in the park, we offer two safaris: a sunrise safari, from 06:30 to 08:45, or a morning safari, from 07:30 to 09:45, and the afternoon safari for each option. The afternoon safari usually takes place between 16:00 and 18:00. Ask about possible supplements depending on availability in the quoted airfare classes and in special periods. Airfares may vary, and the price will be reconfirmed when the flight tickets are issued. Ask about supplements and mandatory Christmas or special-date dinners. No vaccination is mandatory for this trip. A yellow fever vaccination certificate is required for travelers over one year old coming from countries with a risk of yellow fever transmission. Keeping the official vaccination schedule up to date is recommended. The Ministry of Health and Consumer Affairs, in line with the WHO, recommends keeping vaccinations up to date and a series of vaccines, including hepatitis A and B, tetanus-polio, typhoid fever, Japanese encephalitis and influenza. Regular safaris with one or more nights in Nairobi that include a lunch or dinner at a Nairobi restaurant (which may be replaced by a meal, depending on the itinerary) include the corresponding transfers. This usually happens on the first or last day of the safari. Rooms and tents in hotels, lodges or camps are guaranteed for occupancy from 12:00. Before that time, occupancy is subject to availability. Use of rooms is guaranteed until 10:00 in all hotels, lodges and tented camps, unless a day-use room or an extended check-out is booked in advance. Day-use rooms (until 18:00) in city or coastal hotels can be booked for about 75% of the hotel's nightly rate.
