Continuation to Ait Ben Haddou, a legendary adobe citadel declared a World Heritage Site and the setting of many film productions. After the visit, departure for Ouarzazate, known as "the gateway to the desert". Dinner and accommodation.

3

DAY 3

OUARZAZATE-TODRA GORGE-ERFOUD (342 KM)

Breakfast. We enter the Valley of a Thousand Kasbahs, lined with palm groves and adobe fortresses tied to stories of caravans and Amazigh tribes. We pass Skoura and Kelaat M'Gouna (famous for its Damask roses) and reach the Todra Gorge, a natural canyon with rock walls up to 300 meters high. Free time for lunch. In the afternoon, continuation to Erfoud, a Saharan town known for its ancient fossils and as the entrance to the great sea of dunes. Dinner and accommodation.

4

DAY 4

ERFOUD-MERZOUGA (65 KM)

Breakfast. Departure for Merzouga, the gateway to the Erg Chebbi dunes. There the scenery brings together golden sand, open sky and silence. Optionally, a 4x4 excursion through the oases and nomad villages is available, with a visit to Khamlia, a village of Gnawa musicians descended from African slaves. In the afternoon, we start the dromedary caravan to enter the dunes. The sunset over Erg Chebbi is one of the standout moments of the trip. Arrival at the camp, welcome with tea, traditional dinner and an evening of music under the stars. Accommodation in comfortable tents.

5

DAY 5

MERZOUGA-IFRANE-FEZ (470 KM)

After breakfast at the camp, we take the road north, on a day of changing landscapes: from the sands of the Sahara to the freshness of the cedar forests. We cross Er Rachidia, Midelt, the plains of the Middle Atlas and the cedar groves where Barbary macaques live. Stop in Ifrane, a city of Alpine architecture and well-kept gardens. Arrival in Fez, the spiritual and intellectual capital of Morocco. Dinner and accommodation.

6

DAY 6

FEZ

Breakfast. Free time to rest, stroll or try a local experience. Before noon, visit to the medina of Fez el-Bali, a World Heritage Site, with its labyrinth of alleys, artisan workshops and souks. From the Bab Boujloud gate, we continue to the tanners' quarter, visit a madrasa, see the Royal Palace from the outside and learn about the traditional crafts of coppersmiths, potters and dyers. Lunch at a typical restaurant. Afternoon free or continuation of the visit. Dinner on your own. Accommodation.

7

DAY 7

FEZ-RABAT-MARRAKESH (540 KM)

After breakfast, departure for Rabat, capital of the Kingdom and the last of the imperial cities on the itinerary. Unlike Fez and Marrakesh, Rabat has a serene atmosphere, where modern life coexists with a historic legacy. The visit starts at the Hassan Tower, an unfinished 12th-century minaret, and the neighboring Mausoleum of Mohammed V, a white marble building where kings of Morocco rest, guarded by the Royal Guard. We continue to the Kasbah of the Udayas, an Almohad fortress overlooking the Atlantic. We walk along streets whitewashed in blue and white, among bougainvillea and carved doors, to the viewpoint over the sea. Free time for lunch and, in the afternoon, departure for Marrakesh, crossing the fertile plains of central Morocco. Arrival in the red city and transfer to the hotel. Free time to rest or take a last stroll among souks and gardens. Dinner and accommodation.
