About the trip

Eight days around Iceland, from Reykjavik to the Golden Circle, the south coast, the Jökulsárlón glacier lagoon, Lake Mývatn and the Snæfellsnes peninsula. The itinerary includes a geothermal bath, whale watching and 5 dinners.

What you will experience

- Golden Circle with the Strokkur geyser, the Gullfoss waterfall and a geothermal tomato farm
- South coast with Seljalandsfoss, Skógafoss and the black sand beach of Reynisfjara
- Skaftafell National Park and the Jökulsárlón glacier lagoon, with the option of a boat ride among icebergs
- Dettifoss, Lake Mývatn and Godafoss, with a geothermal bath included
- Whale watching on the north coast and the Glaumbær Museum, an old turf farm
- Snæfellsnes Peninsula with Kirkjufell and Thingvellir National Park, on the UNESCO list

Day by day

1

DAY 1

REYKJAVIK

Arrival at Reykjavik international airport (Keflavik). Transfer to the hotel at the passenger's expense. Overnight stay.

2

DAY 2

REYKJAVIK-GOLDEN CIRCLE-SKÓGAFOSS-REYNISFJARA-SOUTH REGION (340 KM)

Breakfast. Departure toward the Golden Circle to see the famous Strokkur, a geyser that erupts every 7 minutes and throws a jet of water up to 40 meters high, and the mythical Gullfoss waterfall, which plunges into a canyon 70 meters deep. We visit a well-known hydroponic tomato farm, where we see how cultivation is done sustainably thanks to geothermal energy. Continuation along the south coast, with views of the Seljalandsfoss and Skógafoss waterfalls, the most famous in Iceland. We visit the black sand beach of Reynisfjara and its huge geological formations. We stop in front of Dyrhólaey, a huge pillar of dark lava that extends 120 meters out to sea. If there is time, a short walk to see life in the small village of Vik. Dinner and overnight stay.

3

SOUTH REGION-SKAFTAFELL-JÖKULSÁRLÓN-EAST COAST (455 KM)

Breakfast. The first stop is Skaftafell National Park, part of Vatnajökull National Park. The visit to the park offers views of glaciers flowing across the plains. Photo stop at Skaftafell to see the glacier from a distance. Then we continue to the Jökulsárlón glacier lagoon, the largest in Europe. Free time for lunch near Jökulsárlón. Optionally, with a supplement, you can sail among the huge icebergs in the picturesque landscape of Jökulsárlón for 30 to 40 minutes. Then we continue along the east coast, passing small fishing villages. Dinner and overnight stay.

4

EAST COAST-DETTIFOSS-GEOTHERMAL BATH AT MYVATN-GODAFOSS-AKUREYRI AREA (320 KM)

Breakfast. First stop at Dettifoss, the most powerful waterfall in Europe. Continuation to Namaskard (fumaroles, pure sulfur, steam jets, hot springs...). We continue to Lake Mývatn, whose surroundings are dominated by volcanic formations, including lava columns and craters. Dimmuborgir (the dark castle), formed by volcanic caves, is one of the places to see in the region. The next stop is Godafoss, the waterfall of the gods. Admission to geothermal baths, with bathing and towel included, and then we continue to the Akureyri area (in northern Iceland). Dinner and overnight stay.

5

DAY 5

AKUREYRI AREA-WHALE WATCHING-GLAUMBAER-BORGARNES (390 KM)

Breakfast. Today we set out from the north coast to try to spot humpback and minke whales. The birdlife is also incredible in this area. Then, visit to the Glaumbær Museum, an old 18th-century turf farm, which has a collection of works of art, part of it outdoors. In the afternoon we continue to the land of the Icelandic horses, along Skagafjördur. Our last stop is the fishing village of Borgarnes. Dinner and overnight stay.

6

DAY 6

BORGARNES-SNÆFELLSNES PENINSULA-KIRKJUFELLSFOSS-BORGARNES (290 KM)

Breakfast. Departure for a day of exploring the Snæfellsnes peninsula, dominated by Snæfellsjökull, nicknamed the "snow-covered volcano", a glacier volcano that inspired Jules Verne in Journey to the Center of the Earth. The volcanoes of this region have been inactive for thousands of years, but the moss-covered lava makes the landscape unique. A scenic road leads to Arnarstapi, a lovely miniature harbor nestled at the back of an inlet. Continuation around the Snæfellsjökull glacier volcano, through lunar landscapes. Optionally, with a supplement, you can visit the Vatnshellir lava cave, almost 8,000 years old, which recalls Jules Verne's Journey to the Center of the Earth. We see the Saxhóll crater, a photogenic volcanic cone that offers spectacular panoramic views after climbing a comfortable, award-winning iron staircase. We also stop at a beautiful beach famous for being one of the best places in Iceland to spot seals in their natural habitat, and we stop at the famous Kirkjufell, the most photographed mountain in Iceland. Return to Borgarnes. Dinner and overnight stay.

7

DAY 7

BORGARNES-THINGVELLIR-REYKJAVIK (205 KM)

Breakfast. We continue the route to Reykholt, a historic place where many Viking sagas were written, and we see the hot springs of Deildartunguhver. Then we see Hraunfossar (lava waterfall) and Barnafossar (children's waterfall). Next we go to Thingvellir National Park, or "Parliament Valley", the birthplace of Icelandic democracy in the year 930 and the first European parliament. This UNESCO World Heritage Site is also interesting from a geological point of view, because you can clearly see the rift caused by the separation of the Eurasian and North American tectonic plates. Arrival in Reykjavik in the afternoon. If you prefer, you can join a panoramic walking tour of the center to see the iconic Hallgrímskirkja church and the magnificent opera building, the "Harpa" (if there is no time for the walk on this day, it is done the next morning). Overnight stay.

8

DAY 8

REYKJAVIK

Breakfast. At the scheduled time, transfer to the airport without assistance, on the regular Flybus shuttle bus service. End of services.
